GOP Praises Ike's Program For Country

Democratic Leaders
Call For Specific
Plans To Meet Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats called on President Eisenhower today to back up with specific blueprints for action the eight-point program he laid before Congress Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set the show-me tone of reaction to the proposals Eisenhower outlined in his State of the Union message. Eisenhower said they are needed to meet the growing space age threat of what he repeatedly called "Communist imperialism."

"The President has in general terms set forth some worthy objectives," Johnson said in an interview. "He has called for strengthening of our allies, greater understanding and commerce between nations and attempts to bring peace to the world. These have long been Democratic objectives."

Waiting For Blueprints

"Now we are waiting for his blueprints for meeting those objectives. As soon as he lays them down, our committees will promptly consider his recommendations."

Although Johnson and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) both praised Eisenhower's speech, there was mounting evidence of Democratic disappointment that Eisenhower did not make any spectacular proposals for an immediate buildup in American military might.

An analysis of the President's proposals circulated among Democratic senators said that basically the message was "long on proposals and short on performance."

"Even the program to step up national security boils down to pumping a little more money into existing projects and promising vaguely to reorganize the defense structure," the analysis said.

Unanimous In Praise

Republicans were practically unanimous in their praise of Eisenhower's personally delivered message. Some Democrats lauded it but many of them were critical.

Eisenhower was interrupted 41 times by applause during the 44 minutes he addressed a joint session of Congress in the House chamber. Republican provided most of the applause, but Democrats led the outbursts.

The show of enthusiasm, like the world situation, differed sharply from that at the start of 1957. Only five rounds of applause interrupted the entire 1957 address to Congress.

The White House described Eisenhower as "very pleased" with the reception he received.

Rayburn said he was "glad to

'57 E. Palestine Fire Loss Totals $54,659

EAST PALESTINE — Fire losses for 1957 totaled $54,659, a large decrease under fire losses of the two previous years, according to the annual report issued today by Fire Chief Glenn Libert. In 1956, damages totaled $243,850, and in 1955, $263,345.

On July 16, 1956, the John E. Kemple Glass Works was destroyed with damages estimated at $200,000. The building was never rebuilt, and the company moved to Kenova, W. Va.

The major fire in 1955 was the Fitzpatrick Industries, a china novelty shop, with losses over $200,000.

Two major fires occurred in 1957. In April, the Nangle Jewelry Store was destroyed, resulting in a $13,500 loss. A $35,000 loss resulted in an out of town fire when the barn on the Charles Wilson Farm, one mile north of here, was destroyed.

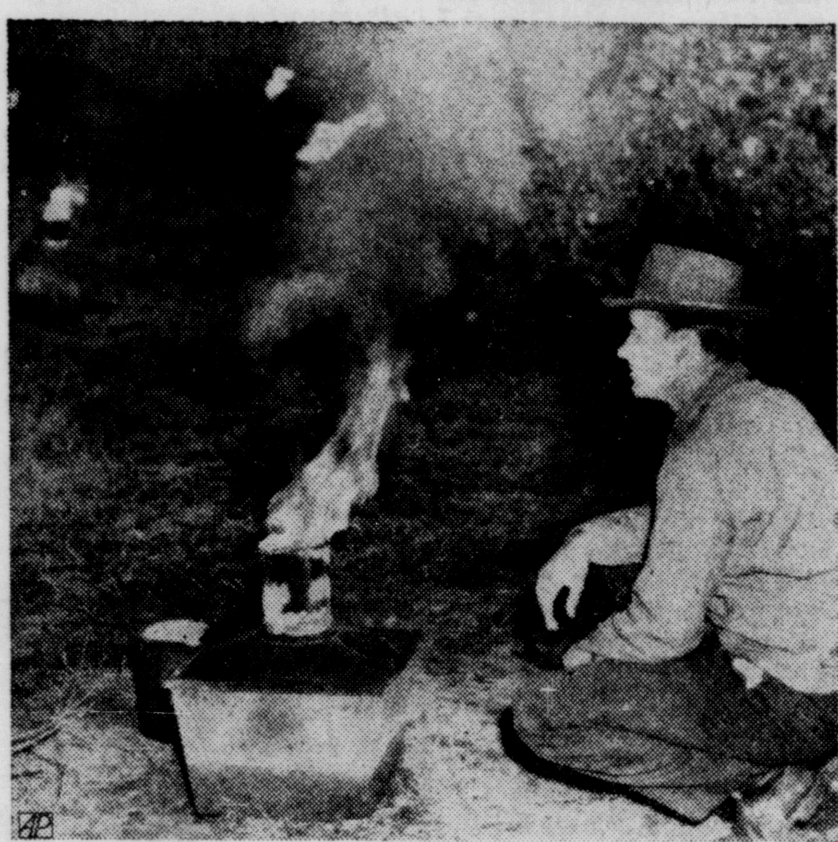

During the year, 59 calls were received, with 38 alarms being sounded. The remaining 21 calls were answered by the chief, but did not necessitate a general alarm.

The total net operating cost of the department was $2,920. The gross cost was $4,720, less the $1,800 paid by insurance companies for answering calls outside of the city.

The trained first aid personnel answered 143 calls. This is an increase over 1956 when 124 calls were received, and over 1955 with 92 calls reported.

N. Jackson Man Traffic Victim

Charles Sinn, 86, Hit
By Auto Wednesday

An 86-year-old North Jackson man died in Youngstown South Side Hospital Thursday at 4:30 p.m. of injuries received when he was struck by a car on Rt. 18 near his home at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The victim, Charles Sinn, sustained fractures of the skull and left leg and severe shock.

He was hit when he walked on to the road and into the path of an auto driven by Howard Warner, 21, of North Jackson, state highway patrolmen reported.

Sinn was rushed to the hospital where he died less than 24 hours after the mishap without regaining consciousness, the hospital attendants said.

The driver of the car swerved in a vain attempt to miss the elderly man, patrolmen said.

Born in Newton Township, O., April 22, 1871, Mr. Sinn was the son of Frederick and Mary Wilhelm Sinn. His wife, Bertha, died in July, 1957.

A farmer, he resided in North Jackson 58 years. He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Survivors include four sons, George, Raymond and Alton Sinn of North Jackson and Clarence Sinn of Norwalk, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Glover of Girard; 16 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren; and a brother, Edward Sinn of Girard.

Services will be Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lane Funeral Home in Mineral Ridge. Interment will be in North Jackson Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

Red Proposal Blunts Impact Of Ike's Talk

Eisenhower Shares
Newspaper Space
With Soviet Premier

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for summit talks today blunted the impact on Western European opinion of President Eisenhower's call for peace through strength.

Instead of having the newspapers all to himself, Eisenhower had to share space with Bulganin and in some cases took second place to the Soviet Premier.

But there were no immediate signs that Bulganin had caused new divisions of opinion in Western ranks.

Rather, Western Europe's newspapers gave their readers the impression that Eisenhower and Bulganin were engaging in a dialogue of peace—a conversation that did not fit together very well but was of tremendous importance for the entire world.

Except in the Communist papers, editorial writers gave support to the lines of the President's State of the Union message. But there were doubts whether the President could secure final congressional approval for his expensive and complex program.

The independent Times of London said in its editorial: Trying to do too much at once may have hampered the American effort hitherto."

Newspapers pointed out that Bulganin's notes amounted to a summary of all Soviet proposals made in the past 12 months. Some said, too that he was using a tricky kind of timing.

Bulganin not only had his proposals hit world new channels while they were handling the Eisenhower message, but the Soviet Premier made his latest move while the Western powers still were considering their replies to messages from him last month.

The West showed no signs of being rushed into top-level talks.

Hard Freeze Again Spreads Over Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A hard freeze lingered in Florida today for the second consecutive day, bringing fears of new damage to citrus fruit growers and more discomfort to all.

Subfreezing weather played no favorites. It spread again over most of Florida, even as far southward as farming areas below Miami.

The greatest threat was to citrus groves in low-lying lands. These were the same ones hit Thursday morning by dangerously cold weather.

Fruit groves on higher lands with a good flow of air should dodge danger today, said Warren Johnson of the Federal-State Frost Warning Service.

The cold weather may break a little this afternoon and tonight, but not too much, in most areas of the state. Temperatures, however, were expected to be above the danger point for most farm crops Saturday morning.

General feeling in the citrus belt is that fruit smitten by the severe December freeze was hurt even more this time and fruit which got by in December probably did this time also.

Air Force Launches Fourth Atlas Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force launched its fourth Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile at 10:48 a. m. (EST) today.

The giant missile took off in a puff of white smoke and a tremendous flash of flame.

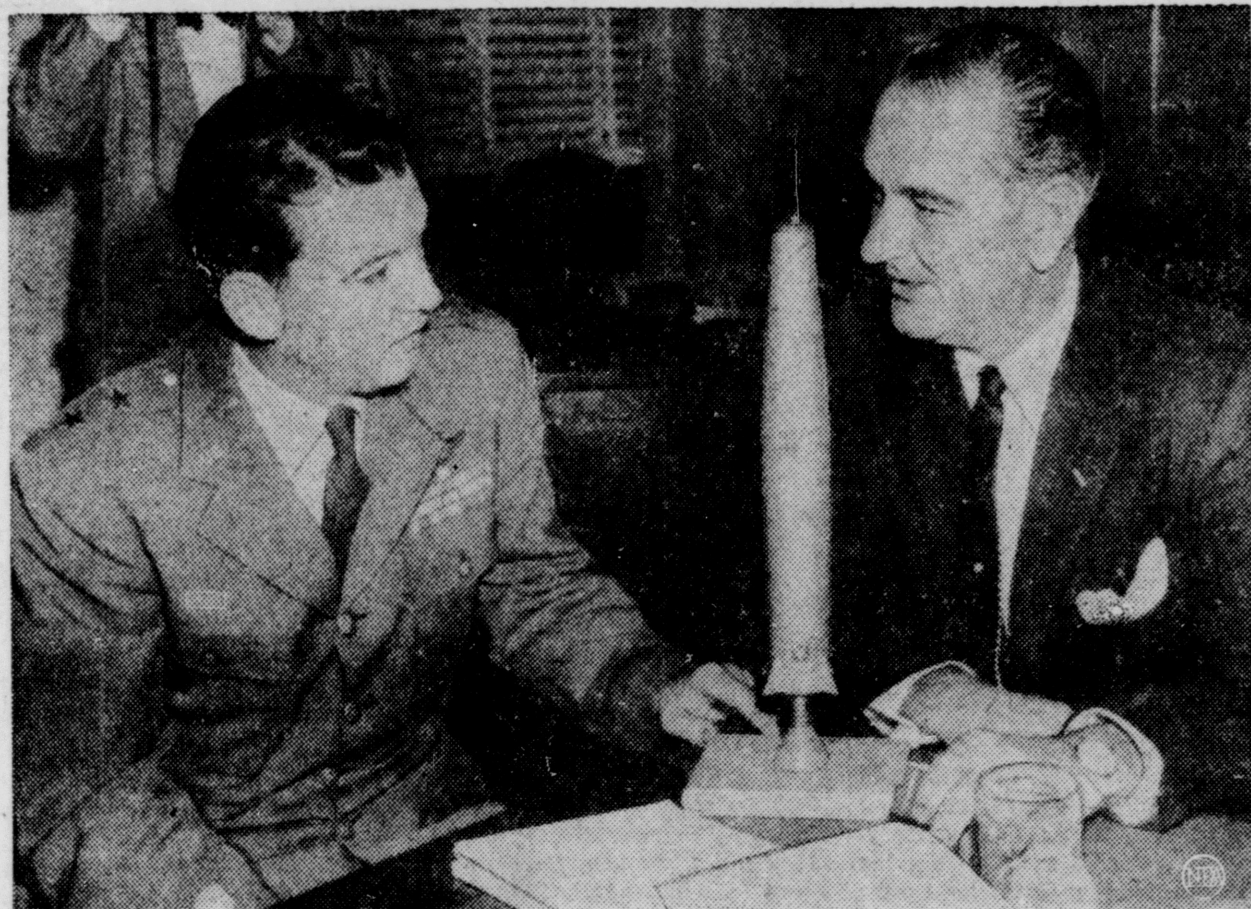

It rose slowly through hazy clouds. Its bright trail of fire was visible for almost three minutes. The thunder of its mighty engines—a primary motor and two boosters—could be heard even after the missile itself vanished in high clouds.

Shortly before disappearing into the overcast, the missile arched over gradually to the southeast, over the test range which extends

Cabinet Resigns In Venezuela

To Give President
Free Hand in Crisis

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The entire Cabinet resigned at midnight Thursday to give President Marcos Perez Jimenez a free hand to deal with the political crisis that followed the New Year's Day military uprising. There were rumors a military junta had been formed.

Creation of a junta probably would mean military officers would supersede Perez Jimenez as the executive power. Another rumor said he would continue in power with an all-military cabinet.

This morning the only official news available was a bare mention that the Cabinet had resigned. The news was carried in front page announcements in two morning newspapers.

Except for soldiers at some strategic points and presence of some armored cars and a tank in front of the presidential palace there was no unusual activity in the city this morning as the result of the Cabinet resignation.

The move, which had been expected, was interpreted as an effort to prevent a repetition of the one-day revolt Jan. 1 by the air force and some army units. Caracas has been calm since then.

The short-lived New Year's Day revolt was the first major challenge to Perez Jimenez's military-backed dictatorship since army leaders installed him as provisional president Dec. 3, 1952. A constituent assembly named him president for a five-year term four months later, and last Dec. 15, after a plebiscite in which he was the only candidate, he won another five-year term.

Also missing is Paul Shade, To our business associate and campaign manager, and Shade's wife, Tobin's wife, four children and parents were located in Long Beach, Calif., but Mrs. Tobin said she had no idea where her husband could be located.

An attachment against the councilman for $175.92 worth of office furniture delivered to his campaign headquarters was filed Thursday by James & Weaver, an office furniture firm.

Unless Tobin attends the next council meeting Jan. 15, political leaders said, his seat will be declared vacant.

Bulganin's Note Tells President Of Intentions

Russian Communique
Meets With Cold
Reception in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's latest and most insistent demand for an East-West summit conference on crucial cold war issues got intensive study—and a cold reaction—today in official Washington.

In a message to President Eisenhower, Premier Bulganin said he proposes to call an East-West summit meeting, perhaps in Geneva, in the next two or three months. Pravda said Bulganin messages went to the 15 NATO nations and the other countries of the 82-member United Nations. Moscow radio said similar letters went to 18 other countries, members of the NATO and Warsaw pacts.

There was no evidence the United States intends to change its basic policy against having a new top-level meeting under present conditions.

The policy is that any such conference must be preceded by careful diplomatic exploration and evidence that the Soviet government is prepared to make concessions in its position on such issues as disarmament and German reunification.

Generates New Hope
Officials here were aware, however, that Bulganin's new diplomatic broadside may generate new hope in Europe for reducing the dangers of a devastating nuclear war.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to have expressed some optimism on the prospect of resuming disarmament negotiations below the summit level. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Dulles, in talking with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "expressed some hope about the future."

"He said he had reasons to believe Russia might be more amenable to discussion of disarmament later—that something may develop out of that would improve the climate for negotiation," Fulbright added, but said Dulles did not discuss his reasons.

Agree On Message
Fulbright and several other members agreed, in commenting on the Russian note, that a summit conference is not indicated now, but they said there is a need for preliminary "feeler" negotiations.

Russia already has rejected a NATO suggestion for a foreign ministers' meeting as a means of breaking the disarmament deadlock.

According to Moscow radio, which broadcast a summary, Bulganin's newest note also opposed foreign ministers' meeting, saying that "certain possible participants in a meeting at this level" would bring prejudices which might wreck the negotiations.

311 Arrested During Year

One Person Killed, 75 Hurt
In 1957 City Traffic Mishaps

One person was killed and 75 were injured in traffic mishaps here in 1957, Chief of Police George T. Early revealed today in his annual report.

The fatality occurred on Thanksgiving Day when Tommy Gee, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gee of Wadsworth, visitors here, was struck by a car on Fair Ave. as he was crossing the street to play with some friends. It was the second traffic fatality here in the past four years.

A total of 329 auto accidents occurred last year, Early said. The mishap figure is a decrease of nine under that recorded in 1956. The number of injuries in 1957 is also a decrease of three under the total for 1956.

However, arrests last year totaled 311 compared with 593 in 1956.

Last year's arrest total was also some 100 behind the total for 1955, Chief Early's report revealed.

Two-car accidents last year totaled 275 compared to 285 for 1956. Other accidents included 24 auto-fixed object mishaps, 14 auto-pedestrian, 11 auto-bicycle and five hit-skip accidents.

Intoxication again led the list as the reason for the most arrests, with 112 people cited on that charge last year.

The number of persons arrested for intoxication was 18 fewer than 1956 and one fewer than 1955, the chief indicated.

The other arrests for the year are as follows: 57, driving while intoxicated; 53, reckless operation; 36, speeding; 27, failure to yield the right of way; 25, disorderly conduct; 14, petit larceny; nine, resisting arrest; seven, auto theft; two, grand larceny; and one for safe tampering.

Cases reported to the FBI were: 95, petit larceny; 38, breaking and entering; 20, stolen cars; 21, grand larceny; and two, armed robbery.

Police collected $28,439 from the city's parking meters last year and $1,661 in parking meter violation fines.

Deskmen answered 16,352 phone calls and the police acted on 3,882 complaints.

Early said 12,518 traffic tickets were issued last year.

Snowstorm Halts
Search For Boy, 5

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—A driving snowstorm brought a halt to the search for missing 5-year-old Dannie Lamont shortly before midnight Thursday. Sheriff Ed Anderson said resumption of the hunt today would depend upon severity of the storm sweeping this Canadian border country.

Anderson said he "simply could not understand" why no trace of the child was turned up by some 2,000 volunteers in the shoulder-to-shoulder search of a 10-mile square area around the Lamont home, a mile south of the city.

The child disappeared Wednesday morning. His father, Lawrence Lamont, hadn't been to bed since then until the search was officially called off. Lamont is a worker at a local paper mill.

Mrs. Lamont was under sedation after collapsing Thursday. The couple has two other children, Allen, 3, and 18-month-old Carol Ann.

Malliers Union Signs
Contract in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton today has hope that local newspapers will publish in the near future.

Dayton Newspapers, Inc., which has not published either of its two papers, the morning Journal Herald or the afternoon Daily News since Dec. 20, settled its dispute with the International Mailers Union, Local 137, Thursday and went into negotiations with the Stereotype Union today.

The settlement of the mailers' strike came in a meeting Thursday. Commissioner U. S. Young of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported. A two-year contract was signed later.

Robert A. Wolfe, executive vice president and general manager of the company, said: "It is not possible at this time to say how soon the Journal Herald and the Daily News will be able to resume publication."

He said all operations halted when the strike of 64 mailers began Dec. 20 and it will take some time to get the plant mechanically ready to turn out newspapers.

He also said there is still the contract with the Stereotype Union to be negotiated. He said earlier Thursday an agreement has been reached with the pressmen.

'Churches Failing
In Urban Centers,'
Says Top Leader

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Protestant churchmen are going to have to lose their small-town point of view and learn that big cities present the greatest spiritual challenge of our times, says a top religious leader.

"Let Protestantism surrender the city and it surrenders everything," Dr. Truman B. Douglass told Thursday's final session of a three-day convocation here.

The convocation, on the city church, was conducted by the United Church of Christ, formed by the merger of the Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed churches.

Dr. Douglass, executive vice president of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Church, charged Protestantism with holding a "huge prejudice" against big cities.

"The point of view of contemporary Protestantism is essentially that of the farm and village . . . a disastrous evasion of the church's greatest responsibility and opportunity in our time," Dr. Douglass said.

Not even the apparently successful Protestant churches in metropolitan centers understand the true characters of urban life, he continued, and all Protestantism has a tendency to regard the big city as "the enemy" of the Christian way of life.

Judge Rejects Beck's
Plea For New Trial

SEATTLE (AP)—Superior Judge George H. Revell Thursday turned down a plea by Dave Beck Jr., son of the retiring president of the Teamsters Union, for a new trial on grand larceny charges.

Young Beck and his father were both convicted in separate jury trials late last year of misappropriating the proceeds, $6,550 from the sale of three union-owned cars. Both asked for new trials on grounds of juror prejudice, errors in instructions to the jury and denial of due process of law.

In dismissing Young Beck's motion, Judge Revell said he could find nothing to justify a new trial and indicated he would pronounce sentence next month. The conviction carries a maximum sentence of a 15-year prison term.

It's a lucky thing the United States has not had to fight a world war in the last few years. For the present system, whereby the armed services are smothered in a bureaucratic apparatus of civilian control, would make war operations far less effective than they were in either of the two world wars in which the United States has been engaged.

Today there are four separate armed services represented on the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and four separate civilian departments dealing with defense problems. "Unification" was the cry in 1947 and 1949, and "simplification" was the slogan in 1953 when Congress passed a so-called military reorganization bill, but the main weaknesses have not been cured.

The principal fault is that the military commanders have been removed farther than ever before from the commander in chief of all the armed forces — namely the president, who under the Constitution has the full responsibility for military operations in time of war.

Today the Joint Chiefs of Staff is neither an operating body nor a planning unit. The heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, moreover, are not statutory members of the National Security Council.

IN TIME OF WAR a commander in a far-off theater who has all three services under him is required by law to communicate through a civilian agency — the Department of Defense — before reaching the commander in chief. This is a requirement which did not exist in either World War I or World War II.

During the last global war, President Franklin D. Roosevelt had a personal chief of staff, Admiral William Leahy, who acted as a liaison with the military heads of the armed services. At that time the Air Force was not yet officially separated from the Army but General "Hap" Arnold, chief air man, was by instruction of the President required to attend all sessions of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

When it came to voting, however, Gen. George Marshall, chief of staff of the Army, always had Gen. Arnold's proxy in his pocket. There were thus in fact only two military chiefs — the head of the till the secretary of the Navy, and they had direct access to the president of the United States. Sometimes they didn't even bother to consult the civilian heads of their respective departments. Admiral Ernest King, who was chief of naval operations during virtually the entire war, once told this writer that he didn't feel obligated to tell the secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, in every case just what naval action was planned. He never told him, for instance, of the intention to give battle at Midway.

HIS ARGUMENT was that a battle plan had to be kept secret and not a single individual was to be told about it ahead of time unless he had to be in some way a part of the operation. The admiral said that the president, of course, could tell the secretary of the Navy what he pleased but, as a military man, he himself would tell civilians about battle plans only when they had to know about them or when he was instructed to do so by the president.

This may be an extreme case of separation of the military and civilian in time of war, but it illustrates the compactness of the operational command which was in vogue during World War II and which has been considerably impaired by the statutes passed since then.

The planning that has to be done nowadays by a joint staff composed of representatives of all four services — Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps — can still be done by subordinate officers of high rank while the procurement and fiscal policies and paper work of the military departments can be consolidated and money saved in a single department headed by a civilian secretary and adequate assistants.

The military job cannot be diluted as it is today by a layer of civilian manager who stand between the commander in chief and the heads of the armed services.

THE THREE CHIEFS of the principal armed services should be the top military advisers of the president, and a fourth officer should be a secretary — general and not a "chairman."

The "chairman" idea leads only to the Prussian general-staff concept of a single chief that worked so badly for the Nazis in World War II.

Three minds are better for consultation with the president than one. Three men who have risen to the top in their respective services and who have direct command responsibilities should sit next to the president for command purposes.

As for activities of a broad nature involving money and planning as well as research and development, what is needed is a presidential defense council on which the secretary of defense, as well as the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, would sit alongside the president and vice president.

There is no constitutional authority for a secretary of defense to direct or manage the armed services and the sooner civilian tasks are separated from the military under the direct command of the president, the more efficient will the American military apparatus be in the event we are suddenly plunged into a global war.

If I could have my way, every public official tempted to make a statement about military security would count to 10 one million times before opening his mouth. At one count to a second, that would be 115 days later, allowing a reasonable time for throat-clearing.

Christmas looked more dismal than usual this year when it was over, further proof of the magic that makes it glitter when it is being awaited.

I have lost patience with people who perform that weird yodeling sound which is currently popular and with all people who inflict them on the general public via TV. In short, I am boycotting rock 'n' roll.

While we are getting in a lather about Russian rockets, I suspect the Kremlin is working overtime to use our state of mind as an argument for better trade and diplomatic relations with European, Asiatic and African governments, thereby advancing its long-range purposes.

I am waiting to see a woman sit down while wearing one of the new sack dresses. After two bob-skirted wartime intervals, I am impervious to shock—but that should be something to see!

It is uncanny how much better a fellow can feel about winter after mailing an order for flower seeds.

It is no mystery what happens to intellectuals like Gen. Gavin and Admiral Rickover in the armed services. The non-intellectuals who always end up with the power of command resort to throat-cutting instead of back scratching and there's another scandal.

I think it is disgraceful when colleges are thrown out of amateur football competition at the end of a season for practicing professionalism during the season, exactly like waiting until the horse has been stolen before locking the barn door.

The point being missed about the economical foreign cars is that they replaced the behemoths once popular in Europe. Foreign cars used to be big, too, until gasoline became too expensive to permit their operation.

It is just possible the fountain pen I received for Christmas may be the only I have been waiting for all my life—the one that will not be messy. I have been using it for two weeks without a mishap.

I keep wondering where they will put Khrushchev out to pasture when it is his turn to be exiled. I also wonder how Molotov, Malenkov and their pals are getting along.

That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. — Titus 2:2. A graceful and honorable old age is the childhood of immortality. — Pindar.

It's a lucky thing the United States has not had to fight a world war in the last few years. For the present system, whereby the armed services are smothered in a bureaucratic apparatus of civilian control, would make war operations far less effective than they were in either of the two world wars in which the United States has been engaged.

Today there are four separate armed services represented on the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and four separate civilian departments dealing with defense problems. "Unification" was the cry in 1947 and 1949, and "simplification" was the slogan in 1953 when Congress passed a so-called military reorganization bill, but the main weaknesses have not been cured.

The principal fault is that the military commanders have been removed farther than ever before from the commander in chief of all the armed forces — namely the president, who under the Constitution has the full responsibility for military operations in time of war.

Today the Joint Chiefs of Staff is neither an operating body nor a planning unit. The heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, moreover, are not statutory members of the National Security Council.

IN TIME OF WAR a commander in a far-off theater who has all three services under him is required by law to communicate through a civilian agency — the Department of Defense — before reaching the commander in chief. This is a requirement which did not exist in either World War I or World War II.

During the last global war, President Franklin D. Roosevelt had a personal chief of staff, Admiral William Leahy, who acted as a liaison with the military heads of the armed services. At that time the Air Force was not yet officially separated from the Army but General "Hap" Arnold, chief air man, was by instruction of the President required to attend all sessions of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

When it came to voting, however, Gen. George Marshall, chief of staff of the Army, always had Gen. Arnold's proxy in his pocket. There were thus in fact only two military chiefs — the head of the till the secretary of the Navy, and they had direct access to the president of the United States. Sometimes they didn't even bother to consult the civilian heads of their respective departments. Admiral Ernest King, who was chief of naval operations during virtually the entire war, once told this writer that he didn't feel obligated to tell the secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, in every case just what naval action was planned. He never told him, for instance, of the intention to give battle at Midway.

HIS ARGUMENT was that a battle plan had to be kept secret and not a single individual was to be told about it ahead of time unless he had to be in some way a part of the operation. The admiral said that the president, of course, could tell the secretary of the Navy what he pleased but, as a military man, he himself would tell civilians about battle plans only when they had to know about them or when he was instructed to do so by the president.

This may be an extreme case of separation of the military and civilian in time of war, but it illustrates the compactness of the operational command which was in vogue during World War II and which has been considerably impaired by the statutes passed since then.

The planning that has to be done nowadays by a joint staff composed of representatives of all four services — Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps — can still be done by subordinate officers of high rank while the procurement and fiscal policies and paper work of the military departments can be consolidated and money saved in a single department headed by a civilian secretary and adequate assistants.

The military job cannot be diluted as it is today by a layer of civilian manager who stand between the commander in chief and the heads of the armed services.

THE THREE CHIEFS of the principal armed services should be the top military advisers of the president, and a fourth officer should be a secretary — general and not a "chairman."

The "chairman" idea leads only to the Prussian general-staff concept of a single chief that worked so badly for the Nazis in World War II.

Three minds are better for consultation with the president than one. Three men who have risen to the top in their respective services and who have direct command responsibilities should sit next to the president for command purposes.

As for activities of a broad nature involving money and planning as well as research and development, what is needed is a presidential defense council on which the secretary of defense, as well as the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, would sit alongside the president and vice president.

There is no constitutional authority for a secretary of defense to direct or manage the armed services and the sooner civilian tasks are separated from the military under the direct command of the president, the more efficient will the American military apparatus be in the event we are suddenly plunged into a global war.

Questions and Answers

Science does not stand still, and today's first inquirer brings up an interesting field of endeavor in medical research.

Q — Please tell me what agar-agar is and whether it is safe to take as a mild laxative?

A — Agar or agar-agar, is a preparation extracted from a particular seaweed. It has long been used in various forms as a mild laxative and for other purposes. I believe that a laxative should not be taken at all unless it is really needed.

Q — Do you know of any cases on record of a person having been bitten by a scorpion and survived?

A — Survival following the bite of a black scorpion is the rule rather than the exception. However, scorpion bites are dangerous, particularly for babies and small children who should be protected against this possibility.

Q — A short time ago you discussed trigger finger and mentioned operation for it. We have been treated successfully for this condition by injections of hydrocortisone.

A — This is a treatment which might well be tried and should have been mentioned in my previous discussion.

Q — My husband has diabetes, and wonders if the new drugs which can be taken by mouth will replace insulin injections for people with diabetes. He is interested in giving them a trial.

A — It is true that many studies have been made with certain drugs which influence the use of sugar in the body and are aimed at replacing injections of insulin which are needed by so many victims of diabetes. There are several difficult problems connected with these drugs not least of which is the possibility that they may produce undesirable or toxic effects as well as the desired ones. At present they must be considered in the experimental stage and should not be taken except under the advice and observation of a skilled physician.

FBI Arrests Man On Kidnaping Charge

CINCINNATI (AP) — "I was too drunk to know what I was doing" was the excuse given here Thursday by James E. Holland, 28, of Lejunior, Ky., after he had been arrested on a charge of kidnaping a 16-year-old Florence, Ky. boy.

Holland waived an examination and U. S. Commissioner Graham P. Hunt ordered him held to the grand jury under $25,000 bond.

Holland was arrested by FBI agents in nearby North Bend Wednesday night. He was accused of having forced Donnie Blaine Martin to drive him to North Bend from Florence.

Ed Mason, agent in charge of the FBI, said Holland pulled a pistol on Martin in a Florence parking lot and ordered the youth to drive him to Indianapolis. At North Bend, however, Holland released Martin but ordered him to write a note transferring the car to him, Mason related.

The youth called police and Holland was arrested after a grocer notified officers he had just helped a man in a stalled car. The grocer said the man fitted a broadcast description of the man sought in the alleged kidnaping.

William Shelton, 44, Gets Life Sentence

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — William Shelton, 44, was convicted of second degree murder Thursday by a Common Pleas Court jury.

Judge David G. Jenkins sentenced him to life imprisonment in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Shelton claimed self defense in the fatal shooting of Claude Edwards, 31, July 14. According to testimony, the slaying followed an argument over a one dollar debt.

Miserable January in East

The weather maps below give you the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until the end of January. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Temperatures from now until February are expected to average below seasonal normals over most areas east of the Continental Divide, except for near to above normal over the Northeast and in the Southern Plains. This marks a wintry change from the mild conditions which prevailed over late December. West of the Divide temperatures are expected to average above normal, except near normal over the Southern Plateau.

Precipitation from now until February is expected to exceed normal from the Ohio and Lower Mississippi Valleys eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard, with increasing snows in the northern half as January progresses. Above normal precipitation is also anticipated over California. Subnormal amounts are indicated over the Southern Plains, western Great Lakes Region, and Upper Mississippi Valley. In other areas about normal is predicted.

Gold-Laden Card

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Army is supposed to build men.

It did even better by Cy Leslie, a big ex-sergeant in the Signal Corps. It gave him the initial idea that led to a multimillion-dollar-a-year business.

Cy, who is 35 and has the height and the heft of a professional football tackle, today is known as "the King of the Kiddie Records." Last month his firm pressed its 100 millionth record for children.

During the second world war — Leslie didn't figure the Army was doing him much of a favor by sending him to such faraway places as New Guinea and the Philippines. He was lonely, as all soldiers are.

Then, one day, he got a greeting card from his mother, back in Brooklyn. Gazing at the greeting card, Leslie mused:

"Boy, if this thing could only talk!"

If only a greeting card could talk, Cy brooded over the thought. Well why couldn't a greeting card carry a vocal message? He decided it could.

Released from the Army in 1946, Leslie gambled his savings on creating a line of recorded two-bit greeting cards.

"I had only $1,100 — and I put every penny into it," Cy recalled. "We wrote our own lyrics and music. I slept on the desks at night because I was too tired to go home. My mother even helped by trimming the paper-based records with her scissors."

"The cards caught on fast. The first year we took in $25,000, the second year $300,000. Then we couldn't give them away. The cards were a fad, and the fad was over."

Cy then decided to take an even bigger gamble — to enter the kiddie record field in competition with the major companies. He decided the only way he could win was to put out a 25-cent product and aim for a new mass field.

"I picked up a number of then unknown singers and used them to make children's records," he recalled. "Later on some of them, Kay Armen, Clark Dinnis and the Mariners, went on to fame in the adult music field."

And Cy, who now has three children of his own, made one other major decision — that none of his musical versions of classic fairy tales and fables would have frightening endings.

Leslie's Cricket Label line for tots succeeded so phenomenally that now he has begun a new line of low-priced albums for the adult market.

How was this ex-sergeant able to go out and carve his own growing empire in a $400 million a year industry ruled by giant companies?

"Guts and ignorance," said Leslie when, if we really had known what we were up against, we probably should have quit — but we didn't.

Financial Fuss in Cabinet May Strengthen Macmillan

LONDON (U)—Prime Minister Macmillan seems to have turned a serious clash inside his Cabinet to the political advantage of himself and his Conservative party.

Instead of finding his position with the general public weakened, Macmillan actually may come out stronger from the dispute over the new government budget which produced the surprise resignation of Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft.

For now Macmillan, as he tours the Commonwealth, stands at home as the defender of the welfare services—as the moderate politician who refused to cut back government expenditures on such things as free milk for children and aid to expectant mothers.

The announced reason for Thorneycroft's resignation Monday was that he insisted the relatively small sum of 50 million pounds (140 million dollars) should be cut from the estimate of government expenditures for the fiscal year that begins April 1. This would have kept 1958-59 spending at this year's level.

After naming Derick Heathcoat-Amory the new chancellor, Macmillan took off on schedule the next day for a 39-day Commonwealth tour to India, Pakistan, Ceylon, New Zealand and Australia.

Ignoring the calls of opposition Laborites for his government to quit, Macmillan at the airport calmly said the resignation of the key Cabinet member had resulted from "little local differences."

Labors' party leaders appear to be at something of a loss to know how to capitalize on the opening Thorneycroft's quitting normally would give them.

Thorneycroft's chief financial adviser, Enoch Powell, who resigned along with his chief, said in a political speech Thursday night that the issue on which they quit went beyond any specific budget cut or the question of reducing welfare expenditures.

He said the question was whether the Cabinet fully supported Thorneycroft's tough anti-inflation program, and the chancellor "was forced to the conclusion that he had not that support."

Lisbon Police Trace Hit-Skip Vehicle

LISBON — Police at 10:25 p.m. Thursday located the owner of a car which failed to stop last night after it struck an auto owned by W. A. Peters of Pritchard Ave. and parked in front of his home.

The owner, William Garwood of RD, Lisbon was identified through a license plate of the moving vehicle. The impact tore off the bumper and license plate of Garwood's car.

Garwood told police his brother had borrowed his auto last night. Police said Garwood promised to contact Peters in regard to the paying for the damages to the latter's car.

LISBON — Two motorists were fined a total of $60 and costs on Thursday by Mayor John Todd, and an East Liverpool driver forfeited a bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

President

War, but his $74,300,000,000 budget included highway spending, and Eisenhower's does not. A separate highway trust fund was established under a 1956 law.

The President told Congress there will be substantial steps in outlays for missiles, nuclear ships, atomic energy, research and development, and science and education.

In his State of the Union message, he confirmed reports that a special contingency fund—understood to total about 500 million dollars—would be requested, to be spent at his discretion to exploit possible new technological discoveries. There also will be requests for pay increases to enable the government to get and hold competent manpower, he said.

know the President is alive to what the American people are disturbed about and this is the bickering and dissension among the services in the Pentagon."

Hints At Reorganization

Leading off his eight points with his reference to defense reorganization, Eisenhower called for a speedup in production of missiles, nuclear submarines and other modern weapons. Congress seemed disposed to give him all the funds he might ask in this field, and possibly more.

There was evident opposition, however, to the President's call for continuation of foreign aid at a high level and continuation of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five years.

Many Democrats indicated they want to go further than Eisenhower's proposal for a billion-dollar, four-year program to promote education and research.

There was general applause for Eisenhower's statement that he expects the budget to be balanced despite increased expenditures. But there was evidence of stiff opposition among Democrats to any move to cut conservation and welfare funds to counter the defense increase. Eisenhower made no reference to specific programs in saying some less essential activities must be curtailed or eliminated.

Bulgarian

London's Conservative Daily Telegraph said in its news columns: It is most unlikely that the Western powers will agree to such a meeting without holding a foreign ministers' or other lower-level conference first."

West Berlin's pro-socialist Telegraph also was critical of the speech, saying it was hardly suitable to give a new uplift to the peoples' hopes for peace and relaxation of tension."

But in Italy a high foreign ministry official said the Eisenhower message has shown once again the great political wisdom of the President of the United States."

Russia

An announcement by Moscow radio showed there was a new and far more insistent note in Bulgaria's bid for a summit meeting this time. The Moscow wording was: "The Soviet government proposes to call in the course of the next two or three months of 1958 a conference of leading statesmen on a high level in which the heads of government will participate."

This stands as a declaration of intention to act with or without the agreement of any particular country such as the United States. By contrast, a note Bulgarian sent to Eisenhower in December said simply that Soviet leaders "would be prepared ... to reach agreement on a meeting of the heads of government."

Cardinals Name Frank Ivy As Nineteenth Head Coach

Mentor, 41, To Succeed Ray Richards

CHICAGO (AP)—Now that the Chicago Cardinals have plucked 41-year-old Frank Ivy from the Canadian Football League as their 19th head coach, the question is—

Can Ivy, well versed in winning under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma and a successful coach at Canadian football, revive the cellar-dwelling Cards into a real contender in the National Football League?

Ivy, who was appointed coach Thursday night succeeding the resigned Ray Richards, faces a stiff challenge—a challenge that has seen eight Card coaches shuffle out of Chicago in the last 10 years.

But, Ivy says he's used to winning and that's enough for Cardinal managing director Walt Wolfner.

In announcing Ivy's appointment, Wolfner told newsmen:

Ivy's the man we wanted since Richards resigned Saturday and we feel he'll do a fine job. He's got the winning touch and it's bound to rub off on the players. He's a hard-working coach. He's the answer to our problems."

Ivy, who played six years as a top flight defensive end with the Cards intermittently from 1940-47, said he had a lot of work ahead of him in his new job.

In four years of coaching in the pay-for-play ranks, Ivy, a native of Skiatook, Okla., won four Canadian western divisional titles and grabbed the All-Canadian championship three years running—1954-55-56.

As a coaching aide under Oklahoma's Wilkinson from 1948-1954, the personable Ivy saw the Sooners win 31 consecutive games. From Oklahoma, Ivy jumped into Canadian football as head man of the Edmonton Eskimos.

Ivy also played college football at Oklahoma.

Richards coached the Cards the last three years. After compiling a 7-5 record in 1956, the team skidded to a 3-9 mark last year.

Schafraath, Kremblas Ohio State Co-Captains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dick Schafraath and Frank Kremblas are the 1958 Ohio State football co-captains.

The announcement was made Thursday at the Agonic Club's championship dinner, honoring the Buckeyes' Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl victory. Team members picked the two.

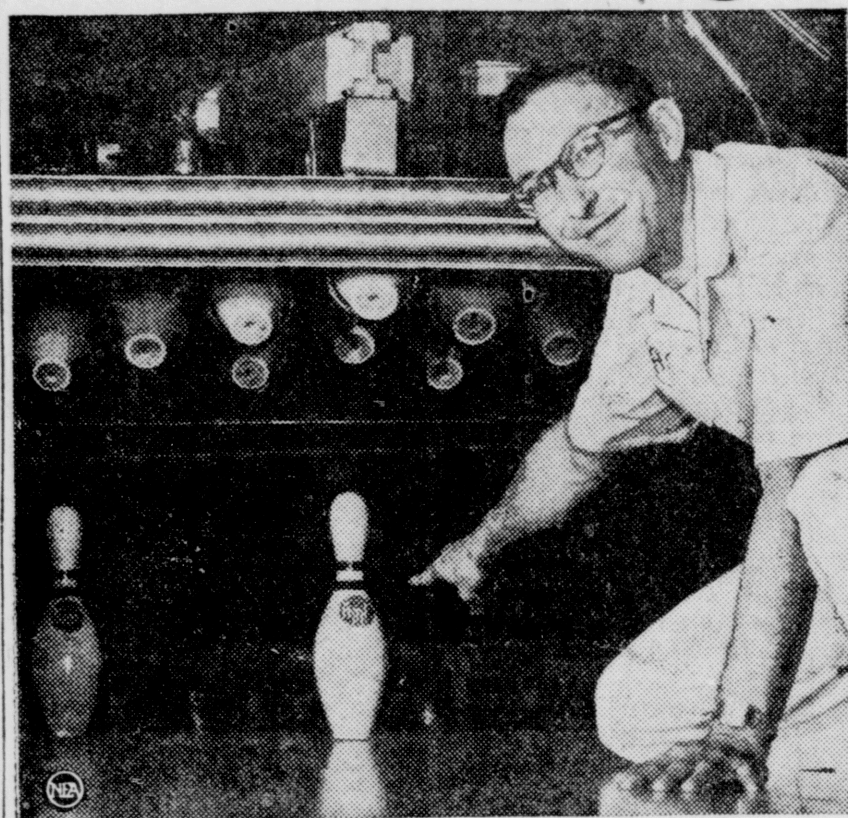

Schafraath is a 208-pound tackle from Wooster, whom Coach Woody Hayes calls the best downfield blocker in the country. Kremblas, a quarterback, is from Akron.

Hayes also commented on the Rose Bowl victory over Oregon, 10-7. He said:

Don't fly off the handle. Do you suppose that by kicking the rack or voicing a little profanity the pins will fall on your next roll?

Quite the contrary. That is no way to win friends or influence pins. No bowler can give his best when upset.

Those who concentrate on their game, and that is so important, take splits and misses in stride. Be yourself.

If you can come out of one of your lowest games and still smile, I say to you, "Congratulations, you are a bowler's bowler."

Fisher Keglers In First Place In Lisbon Loop

The Fisher Sports Equipment Bowling team, composed entirely of Salem keggers, is currently playing havoc with the other squads in the Lisbon Classic League.

The Fisher quintet finished first half play in the loop last night nestled 11 games in first place. Their record is 59-11.

Last week the team set a three-game team high for the year with a 2,967 and a single game team high of 1,108.

After last night's action, the 1,108 mark still stood but the bowlers had established another series high for a team. They knocked over the pins for an actual score of 3,085.

The three games were 1,005, 1,060, 1,020.

The squad has a team average of 929 per game. Six men actually make up the team. They are Robert Tubbs, the captain; Dick Hahn, Chuck Huffer, Paul Shone, Jack Galchick, and Paul Scullion.

Averages show that Hahn leads the way with a 193. Next is Tubbs with 187, Huffer 186, Galchick and Scullion 184 and Shone 182.

Last night, Tubbs set a season high for an individual with a 680.

He had games of 186, 257, 237. His 257 game established the third highest score rolled in the Classic league this season.

Individual performances Thursday show that Huffer had a 209-188, 224, 621; Shone, 215, 242, 201; 658; Hahn, 221, 202, 189, 612, and Galchick, 174, 171, 169, 514.

WILLIAMS HONORED — Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, was named today as the outstanding male athlete of the year for 1957.

The 39-year-old Williams received 85 first place votes and 434 points from the 214 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the annual Associated Press year-end poll. Milwaukee Braves pitcher Lew Burdette was second with 54 first placers and 226 points.

NEW LEASE ON CAREER — Herb Score, right, Cleveland Indians' fireball lefthander whose career was almost ended by a line drive last summer, checks a new uniform the team may wear this year with general manager Frank Lane. Score had just signed his 1958 contract for a reported $20,000, same as last year. The uniform is gray with red pin stripes. Score suffered a severe eye injury when struck by a liner off the bat of New York Yankee Gil MacDougald.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

Two factors have come to light during Salem's past two wins, which if developed to their peak, could greatly enhance the fortunes of the basketball squad as the season progresses.

These pair of elements are a combined team effort and scoring potential.

In all the five victories, Salem has had at least two men hit double figures. Once they had three. In the Akron Garfield game, there were four.

The balanced scoring reached its current peak against New Philadelphia when all five starters had two digits beside their name in the box score.

Such an attack, where each of five men is a potential scorer, could cause an opponent many headaches. A Quaker foe would then be forced to concentrate on the team as a whole rather than bunching their defensive tactics against an individual.

AT THE PRESENT TIME, Bill Pauline tops the Quaker scoring with 73 points for an average of 14.6 markers a game. Moe Meissner is on his heels with 72 tallies or an 14.4 average.

Of the other trio of starters, Butch Platt stands in with an 8.2 average while Lou Slaby has a 7.6 and John Sturgeon, 4.8 averages.

Not only does mentor John Cabas have a quintet who all are above average, in basket making ability, but he has a crop of replacements who can hold their own if thrown into action.

Darryl Adams has pocketed 30 points in five games for a 6.0 average. Woody Deitch has canned 13 markers while two other front line subs, Clyde Marks and Dan Krichbaum, have scored eight and 10 points, respectively, in varsity combat.

Three other performers who dress for the nightcap tilts are Jim Lehwald, Dave Hunter and Ed Yates. Lehwald has scored a pair of counters in three games while Hunter and Yates have failed to dent the scoring column in two opportunities each.

The squad as a whole is averaging

Oakland, Calif. — Kenny Lane, 139, Muskegon, Mich., outpointed Johnny Gonsalves, 140, Oakland, 10.
Revere, Mass. — Joe Devlin, 150½, Boston, stopped Dick McCarthy, 151½, Medford, 3.

ing 63.6 a game while their opponents have been held to a 51.8 average per clash.

SALEM'S ATTACK, which was obviously molded around a team effort in the New Philadelphia encounter, possesses two men who are adept from the outside and on drive-ins and two men who play havoc on the backboards. The fifth man is adept at both outside shooting and rebounding.

The team effort and working together as a unit has come into view when a player will take advantage of his teammate's court-wood familiarity and set him up.

Platt and Meissner have screened one another for an outside shot while Pauline has been set up for a jump shot around the key hole by any of the four men.

At the same time, the three men who play with Slaby and Sturgeon are constantly on the alert to throw one or the other a pass which results in an easy tip-in field goal.

BY THE SAME TOKEN that the team coached by the man in the sassy red socks has been improving with each fracas, they still have other undesirable traits which should be overcome to improve them that much more.

Although Slaby, Pauline and Sturgeon played a whale of a game on the backboard during the second half at New Philadelphia, the team is still confronted with infrequent fannies of offensive rebounds.

This was quite evident in the game with Columbiana when the Clippers came back from a 17-point deficit to within one point of victory.

Another factor worth mentioning is that the Quaker personnel is often guilty of fouling an opponent unnecessarily and in back court. In the past two game, a player has been removed from the game as early as the third period because at that time he had four personals on him.

FANS SHOULD get a real indication of how the Red and Black will fare in post season playoffs following a five-game stint beginning Jan. 23 and ending Feb. 14. In that time they will play Youngstown South, East Liverpool, Boardman, Akron St. Vincent and Ashland.

Don Carter Tagged Favorite In Gold-Laden Bowling Match

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Don Carter of St. Louis, a bowling superstar, was tagged the favorite today in the gold-laden Bowling Proprietors Assn. All-Star tournament at the Minneapolis Armory.

The 31-year-old defending champion's biggest backing came from the men who know best—rival hot-shots who regard him as the finest bowler in the land.

The quest for more than $36,000 in cash prizes starts tonight in a "Parade of Stars" feature which is not actually part of the tournament proper.

At stake tonight is $3,600 in prize money, divided among two shifts of bowlers and one for women.

The blue chip firing starts Saturday over the armory's 24 lanes and won't let up until a week from Sunday. By then the opening field of 238 bowlers will have been whittled down to 16 finalists for match play competition in both divisions.

Carter, 1956-57 "Bowler of the Year" and winner of the recent World Tournament in Chicago, is a three-times champion of the all-star meet.

His overall all-star average of 205 is surpassed only by the 206 of Bill Lillard of Chicago, the 1956 all-star champion.

Other top-ranked contenders for the $5,000 first place booty are Ed Lubanski of Detroit, Carter's St. Louis teammate Tom Hennessey and Dick Weber and Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, among others.

Favored in the women's division is Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., six-times all-star champion. First place in women's competition is worth $2,000.

2 Ohio Teams Take Honors At Garden

By The Associated Press

Two Cincinnati basketball teams took all the honors in games Thursday night in New York's Madison Square Garden, but it was a transplanted Hoosier who really stole the spotlight.

University of Cincinnati sophomore from Indianapolis, Oscar Robertson, turned on one of the greatest one-man collegiate scoring sprees in Garden history to almost single handedly defeat Seton Hall.

The Bearcats swamped the New Jersey team 118-54 and Robertson alone edged them 56-54.

The 6-5 flash received a standing ovation when he was taken out of the game after sinking two free throws with 2:45 remaining to bring his total to 56 points. He hit on 22 of 32 field goals and had 12 out of 12 free throws.

Xavier played in the first game of the doubleheader and dumped Iona of New York 71-61. The once-beaten Musketeers built up a commanding lead in the early minutes and then coasted home for their 10th victory.

Cincinnati's win, which also broke the collegiate Garden scoring record, was the Bearcats' ninth in 11 games.

Otterbein fought off a late game rally to post its first win of the season, 70-67 over Heidelberg in an Ohio Conference game. The Cardinals have been beaten four times, all by conference foes.

For Heidelberg it was their sixth defeat in seven games. They are 1-3 in the conference.

Oberlin was knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten in a non-conference game with Penn, 61-47. The Foxes led all the way in winning their second game in five starts.

Oberlin had a 4-0 mark going into the contest. They remained 2-0 in the Ohio Conference.

Rio Grande, which has not played a game in a month, lost its fourth game of the season. The Redmen went to Frankfort, Ky., and suffered a 74-58 setback from Kentucky State. They have won three times.

Robertson Scores 56 Points As Bearcats Top Seaton Hall

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson, a hep Hoosier who scores points and shuns stardom, was the big man of college basketball today, the toast of even the usually hard-to-please New York critics.

The 6-foot-5 sophomore from Indianapolis scored 56 points as Cincinnati's barreling Bearcats whipped Seaton Hall 118-54 Thursday night.

Oscar bettered the all-time record by a collegian in Madison Square Garden for total points and field goals—and was every bit as good a team man as he was a scorer.

The victory boosted the twice-beaten Bearcats, seventh in this week's Associated Press Poll, into their ninth victory.

Third-ranked and once beaten North Carolina pulled away late in the game and defeated Virginia 82-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference scrap. The Tar Heels, now 11-1, was the only other top 10 team in action.

Robertson's production bettered Harry Boykoff's 54 points for St. John's against St. Francis in 1947 and topped by one the field goal record set by DePaul's all-time great, George Mikan, with 21 against Rhode Island in 1945.

Robertson said he didn't know what or whose record he had broken until after being pulled from the game after a pair of free throws for his 55th and 56th points with 2:46 left.

His 56 points were nowhere near the national, major college record. Furman's All America Frank Selvy scored 100 against Newberry in 1954. Nor did it push him past Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain in the season scoring race. Oscar now has scored 353 points for a 32.1 average. Will has a 32.2 average on 322 points in 10 games.

With Connie Dierking, out for four games with an injury, back in the lineup (he scored 19), and the rest of the Bearcats near their best, Oscar had to hustle and work for 35 minutes. Then with five minutes left and 46 points in the bag, his teammates started to feed him and Robertson took off, urged along by the crowd of 4,615.

Cincinnati's total also set a Garden record, bettering the one-team mark set at 116 by Bradley last season.

North Carolina got past Virginia with a 12-point spurt in the last three minutes that junked a close battle. Pete Brennan scored 29 points for the defending NCAA champs, who trailed 33-30 at the half.

Wake Forest blew a nine-point halftime lead, then got rolling again in the last 10 minutes for an 87-63 victory over South Carolina in another ACC game.

Xavier of Ohio defeated Iona 71-61 in the other half of the Garden twin bill.

Knicks Give 136-123 Loss To Celtics

By The Associated Press
The New York Knickerbockers are not the best in the National Basketball Assn. but they are doing more than any of the others in keeping the Boston Celtics from making a complete runaway in the Eastern Division.

The Knicks, who snapped Boston's 14 game winning streak at the start of the season, and the Celtics have met six times. Each has won three.

The New Yorkers caught the Celtics without Bill Russell Thursday night and squared the series with a 136-123 victory in the first half of a doubleheader at Syracuse. The Nets then took advantage of the opening, edge Minneapolis 127-122, and moved within 5½ games of Boston. New York, going above .500, pulled with eight games of the top.

With Russell on the sidelines nursing a sprained ankle, the Knicks closed with a rush against the Celtics. Boston's Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy tallied 39 and 27 points, respectively, but New York had four red-hot shooters.

Willie Naulls dropped in 33, Ken Sears hit 29 and Richie Guerin had 25.

In handing the Lakers their sixth straight defeat, Ed Conlin led the Syracuse attack with 26 points with Dolph Schayes and Larry Costello contributing 23 each. Vern Mikkelsen and Larry Foust also had 23 pieces for the Lakers.

College Swimmer, 22, Succumbs to Cancer

Doctors said Murphy had been suffering from the disease since last summer. He entered the hospital Jan. 2.

He was a member of Michigan's NCAA championship swimming team last year.

Murphy is survived by his wife, Sally Ann, formerly of Jackson, Mich., and his mother, Mrs. Mildred Murphy of Atherton, Calif.

Detroit Youth Dies in Crash During Pursuit

BUCHYRUS, Ohio — Pursued into this north central Ohio community by a highway patrolman who noted their high rate of speed, a Detroit youth was killed and another injured when the 1958 model sedan they were driving hit a tree Thursday night.

The car had been stolen in Detroit, the Highway Patrol said. They said the injured youth, believed to have been the driver, is being held at Bucyrus City Hospital while the matter is checked out with Detroit police.

The injured youth was identified by patrolmen as David J. Cernace, 15, of Detroit. A patrolman who said Cernace is ambulatory, added that it was the worst wreck I ever saw anyone crawl out of alive.

The other occupant of the car, identified as John De Kun, 17, of Detroit, was killed.

Patrolman R. D. Clements, who spotted the car going east on U.S. 30 North at high speed, turned around and gave chase. The patrol said he slowed down as the chase took both cars inside the city limits here, but the car being chased continued at high speed, went off a curve and hit a tree. Clements did not know it was a stolen car at the time, the patrol added.

Approximately 200 members of the building and trades unions have been on strike for three days as a result of a jurisdictional dispute with the CIO over work inside the plant.

State's Whiskey Testors Relate Hazards of Trade

COLUMBUS, Ohio — It's a startling bit of information to come across, but there are men in Ohio who have access to vast quantities of whiskey, who actually put the stuff in their mouths daily, but who never swallow it.

On the other hand, you might not want to drink it either if it had spiders and fleas in it.

Howard C. Prisk of Westerville is one of the men. He is chief chemist of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control and he and his three aides test liquors. None of them drinks.

What they do, says Prisk, is test by rolling the liquid in the mouth, "and then spitting it out." Swallowing the stuff, Prisk says, cannot give a satisfactory taste test.

The work has its hazards. There was the Chinese whisky sent in by an importer who hoped to sell it in Ohio. It had little fleas and spiders in it. The importer had to find another market.

Prisk's laboratory runs periodic checks on all intoxicating beverages sold in Ohio. Some are sent in by the brewer or distiller, others are taken from store shelves.

The laboratory finds some queer things at times, Prisk says, from cod liver oil or quinine put in by a wife who wants her husband on the wagon, to just plain water put in by cheaters who drink part of the bottle then fill it up with water and return it. It's rare when any of the tricks work, Prisk says.

Two Drivers Cited After 3-Car Mishap

Two persons were cited following a three-car collision on Rt. 62, four miles west of Salem, at 3:50 p.m. Thursday.

The accident occurred when a car driven west by Ralph V. Cole, 45, of Alliance slowed to turn off the highway and was struck in the rear by an auto operated by Jack S. Scullion, 27, of Sebring. A car operated by James Collins, 23, of Alliance then crashed into the rear of the Scullion auto.

Collins and Scullion were cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Only minor damages were caused to the cars, state highway patrolmen stated.

Group Named to Study Ohio License System

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A 12-man advisory committee has been named by Gov. C. William O'Neill to study possible changes in Ohio's system of issuing auto license plates and drivers' permits.

The changes are contained in a proposed 10-point program submitted by Alvin I. Krenzler, deputy registrar of Cleveland. Recommendations include an end to the existing fee system under which Krenzler reportedly receives more than $30,000 a year.

The committee will report to the governor with possible recommendations to the next General Assembly for changes in motor vehicle laws.

George C. Braden, state registrar of motor vehicles, was named committee chairman.
